The school year of 1970 opened with new changes and mounting confusion. What had been an orderly, systematic institution had evolved into a mass of disorder. Construction of two new wings and the expansion of facilities created turmoil in the halls. As classrooms would be completed, classes would be moved, which proved to be a constant source of disconcertion. Also, the fluster of locker changes, schedule changes, and the arrival of new teachers added to the jumble of the school day.

As the year progressed the labyrinth created began to gradually untangle. A routine pattern had almost evolved when the close of the school year brought the return of discord. The prom brought much anticipation and succeeded in returning much confusion. Class socials were planned, as were the Senior banquet, club socials, elections of new officers and cheerleader tryouts. Each of these activities disturbed the daily routine that had almost become fixed.

As the school year ended, the system had once again been dismissed. September had arrived with much confusion, but the end of the semester had proven to bring peace and order, but again, the end of the year was returned to jumble. The Freshmen looked back at the year and saw their revolt, but could look forward and even half anticipate the coming year now that they had found out what high school was like. The Sophomores looked only forward toward the magazine sales and that glorious prom. The Juniors dreamily awaited that next year when they would receive their rings and they would finally be the upperclassmen. And the Seniors, reminiscing over the years, at last realized that it was all over, and it really had not been so bad after all. But these feelings were only typical of any four classes at Aldine during any year. The confusion and the order rotate and revolve so that the years become, and always will become — a never-ending maze.

Sincerely,
Carol Ratcliffe, Editor

In Dedication to . . .

The 1970 ROUNDUP staff chose to dedicate their yearbook to a man who has served Aldine for many years. He served as coach of the junior varsity basketball team and later coached the varsity team.

Along with his efforts with the basketball team, this man has worked with the junior class for many years. He also served as head sponsor to this class.

With deep pride and sincere appreciation the 1970 ROUNDUP staff dedicates this yearbook to Mr. Dee Moses.

ACADEMICS

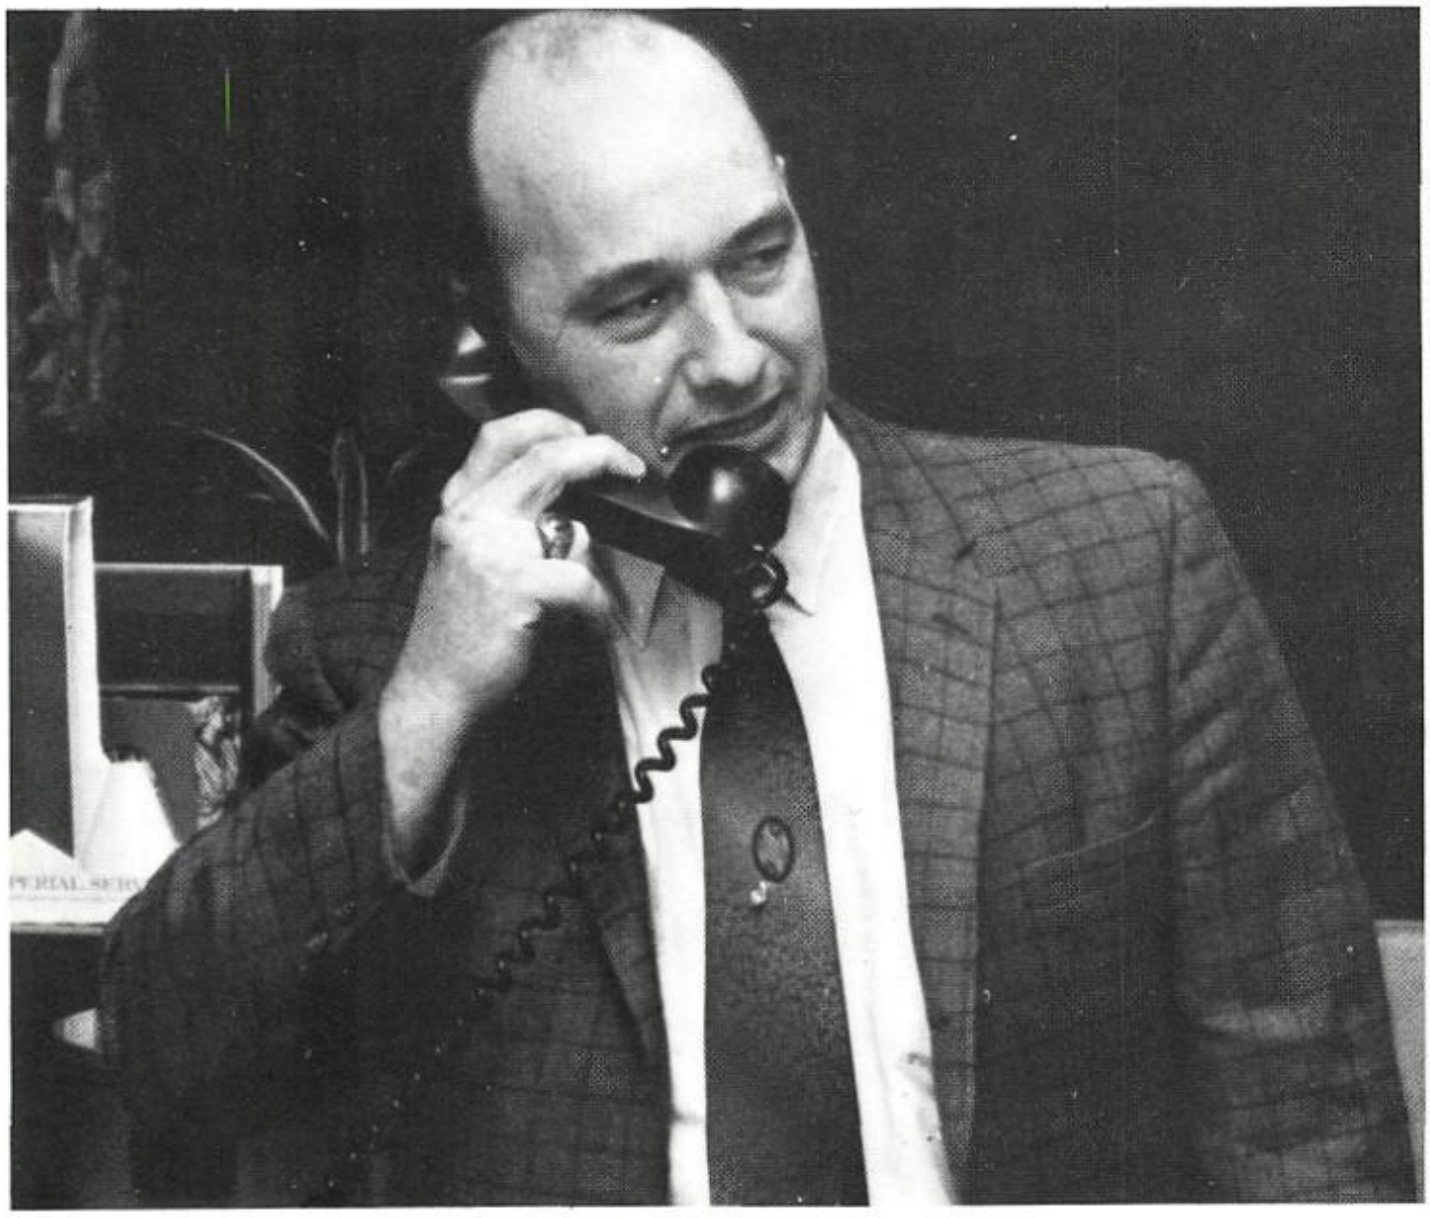
Teachers were the constant cause of worry by many.

Homework was assigned, as were many tests and that research paper.

Students became so familiar with their teachers that pop-tests could even be predicted,

And yet, through all the confusion, many received a well-rounded education.

Third Principal



Right: Much of Mr. Hailey's time is spent talking to parents on the phone.

Bottom: As principal, Mr. Hailey oversees the new construction by checking the blueprints.

Added to Staff

Mr. J. G. Hailey, a new addition to Aldine Senior High, served as principal during the 1969-1970 school year. He transferred to Aldine from Hambrick Junior High, where he had also served as principal. Besides preparing the curriculum, the class schedule, and assisting the counselors in proper placement of students, Mr. Hailey found time from these many and varied duties to counsel with individual students. A large amount of his time was spent listening to the problems and suggestions presented by students. He attended Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston State Teacher's College where he received a Master's in Education and an Administrative Certificate.

Serving as assistant principal again this year was Mr. Richard Spence. The major part of his day was spent taking care of discipline problems. Mr. Spence attended Sam Houston State Teacher's College, where he received his Master's in Education and a Bachelor of Science.

To relieve some of the burden of the principal and assistant principal, an additional assistant principal was added to Aldine this year. Mr. Allen Lewis was in charge of the school calendar, of reading the lesson plans, and of making the morning announcements. He attended Hardin-Simmons University where he received his Bachelor of Arts. Along with other improvements and additions to Aldine, the staff of principals, for the first time in Aldine's history, was increased.

Office Personnel Busy

Enrollment soared to an all record high at Aldine this year. Due to the sudden increase in enrollment, the office personnel were kept busy the year.

Mrs. Huettel, who is new to Aldine High School, served as Mr. Hailey's secretary. She also called in substitutes for absent teachers. Mrs. Jo Kimbro and Mrs. Mullen kept the attendance records and checked on absent students. Mrs. Lee, bookkeeper, took care of money going in or out of the school. Mrs. Charlotte Bradley, registrar, posted grades every six weeks. The school nurse, Mrs. Phyllis Campbell, was there in case a student became sick during the day. Mrs. Barbara Seelhorst and Mr. W. H. Miller, the school counselors, helped the students with their schedules and problems throughout their years at high school. Jobs such as these were performed through the year in order to aid the students and faculty.

Bottom: Checking the recaps sheet is just one of the many jobs of Mrs. Mullen and Mrs. Kimbro.

Assistants Learn Office Skills

Working in the office, as assistants to the personnel, the office assistants learned many basic skills.

They learned many fundamentals of office work.

During the course of one day the assistants answered the telephone, took messages, typed and mimeographed material for teachers, collected absentee slips, and ran errands for the personnel. They also typed the agenda for the week's activities and photographed important papers with the Zerox machines.

These girls proved to be a valuable asset to the office personnel of A.H.S.

New Techniques Added in Speech

Kay Smith, junior, presents her speech as a part of a group discussion as Job Nelson looks on.

Speech classes at AHS began the school year with new techniques taught by an addition to the Aldine faculty, Mr. Alan Deets.

First year speech students were taught correct methods of breathing and voice control before being introduced to the actual fundamentals of public speaking. Also, the International Phonetic Alphabet was adopted by the class to better their understanding of correct pronunciation.

Speech II was the beginning of the student's actual experience in dramatics. Procedures of debate, scene analysis, pantomiming, and acting were a few of the fundamentals taught. Also, studies were made over the history of drama and of drama today.

Various types of speeches, interpretations, and duets in acting were entered in local tournaments by a number of speech students representing AHS. Success of the attempts of these students brought gratuitous recognition to the speech department as well as the school itself.

Students Explore the Past and Present

History courses at Aldine give students an opportunity to gain ideas and explore the events of the past, which in turn are the building blocks of the future. They learned of the mistakes and ideas of men in the past and hoped to improve the future. The teachers used new methods in which to teach classes. For example, Mr. Russell, an American History teacher, had groups of five to six students to present their ideas and to teach the class about a certain chapter. He also had them to present special reports and projects in front of the classes.

Many activities were created and performed in the history department. Programs with special guests were presented and films were shown. The civics classes had city and county officials to come and to speak to them about state and city governments. These special activities helped to create an interest in history for the students.

There were seven different types of history offered at Aldine. Many courses such as civics, advanced government, and economics prepared students for college. With all of these many courses and new teaching methods, a student could prepare himself for the future.

Math — A World

Tapping of pencils, squeaking of chalk and the wadding up of paper to try again, are all familiar sounds that go along with math. The math department consisted of algebra, geometry, trig, consumers math and related math. To enrich and stimulate interest the math department invited two guest speakers during the fall semester. One talked on the New York Stock Exchange and the other was from the Better Business Bureau.

The Consumers math classes worked in the library for several days to do research on their careers. They then gave an oral report on what line of business they were planning to go into after graduation. These classes also videotaped a program about consumers math. The new teachers added to the math department were Green, Bryant, Podsednik, Smith, Jones, Gaines, and Hardy.

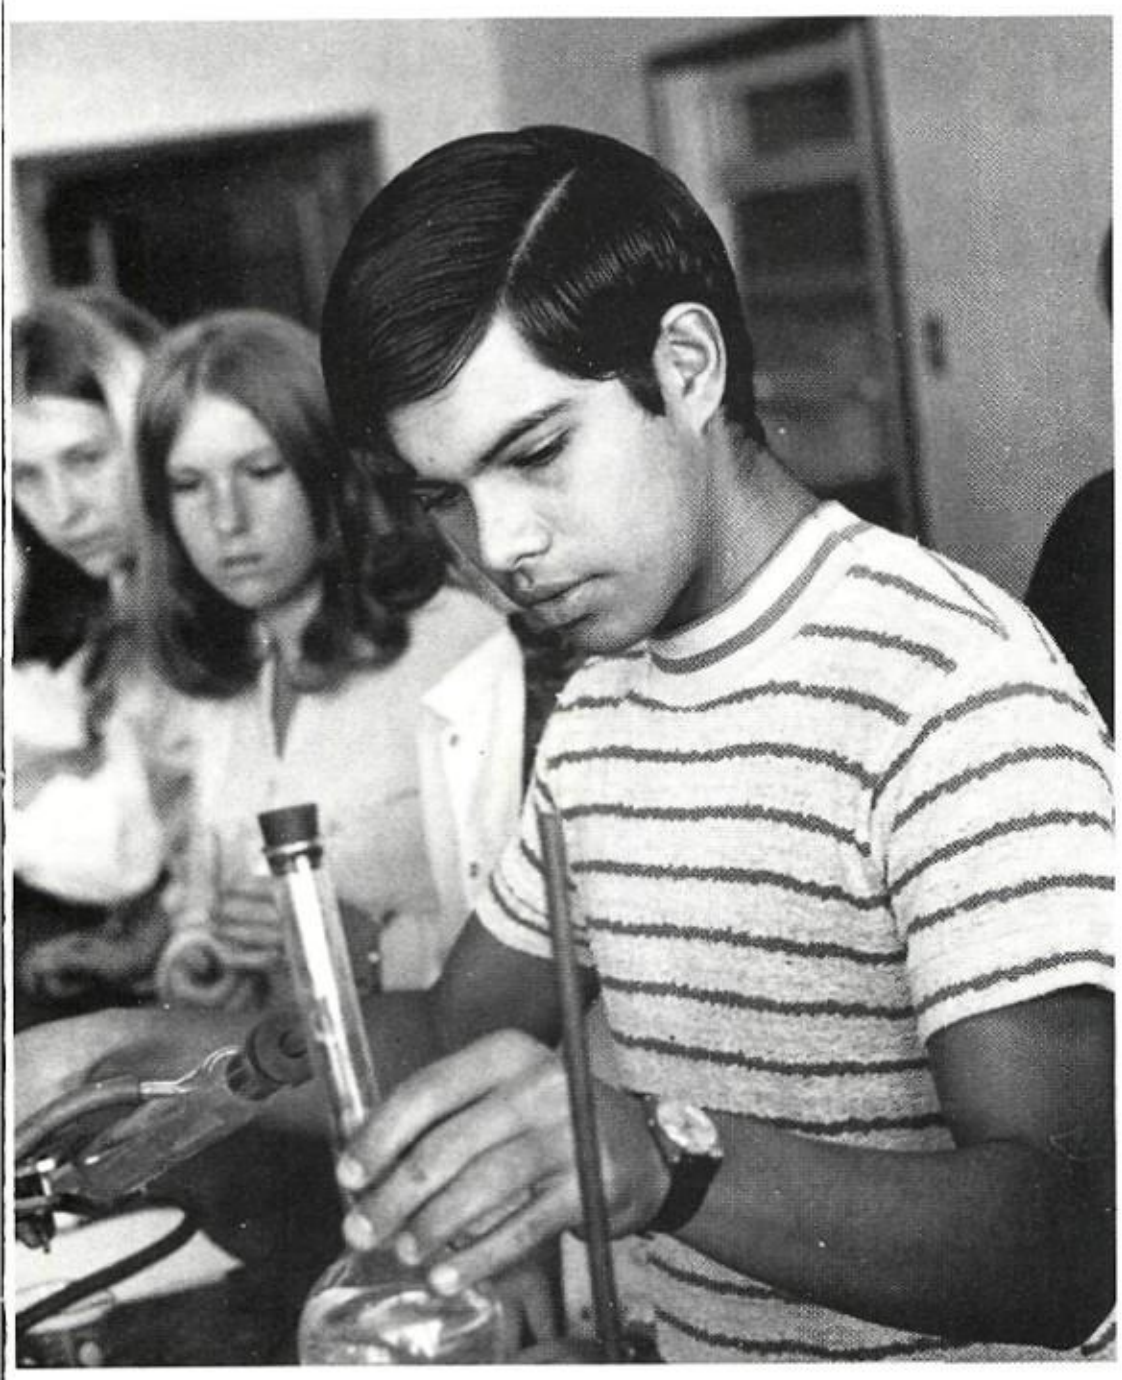
"Why and How" of Science



Fumes from the chemistry lab, and smells of dissected animals from biology were all a part of the science classes this year. Six new teachers were added to the science department to cover the broad field of human knowledge concerned with facts held together by rules and principles.

Physical science, required by freshmen, is concerned mainly with the nature of the universe. For sophomores, biology involved the study of living organisms and their activities. To further their knowledge, juniors and seniors were offered chemistry and physics. Performing experiments, students tried to explain "why and how" chemical reactions take place. Students taking physics were concerned with matter and energy.

The Math and Science Club also sponsored the science department. They go on various field trips during the year.

Foreign Language

If you happen to be walking down the south hall anytime during the day and hear chanting of different languages, don't get excited and think you're in the wrong school. It's only the voices of foreign languages students reciting their lessons. The foreign languages department consists of French, German, Spanish, and Latin.

This year the German classes visited a German restaurant November 1 and 8. They also attended a German Convention. The polka was also taught by Miss Brandt to all her classes.

A foreign exchange student visited Aldine for one week. She was from Finland.

"Speaking is emphasized most in foreign language," stated Miss Brandt.

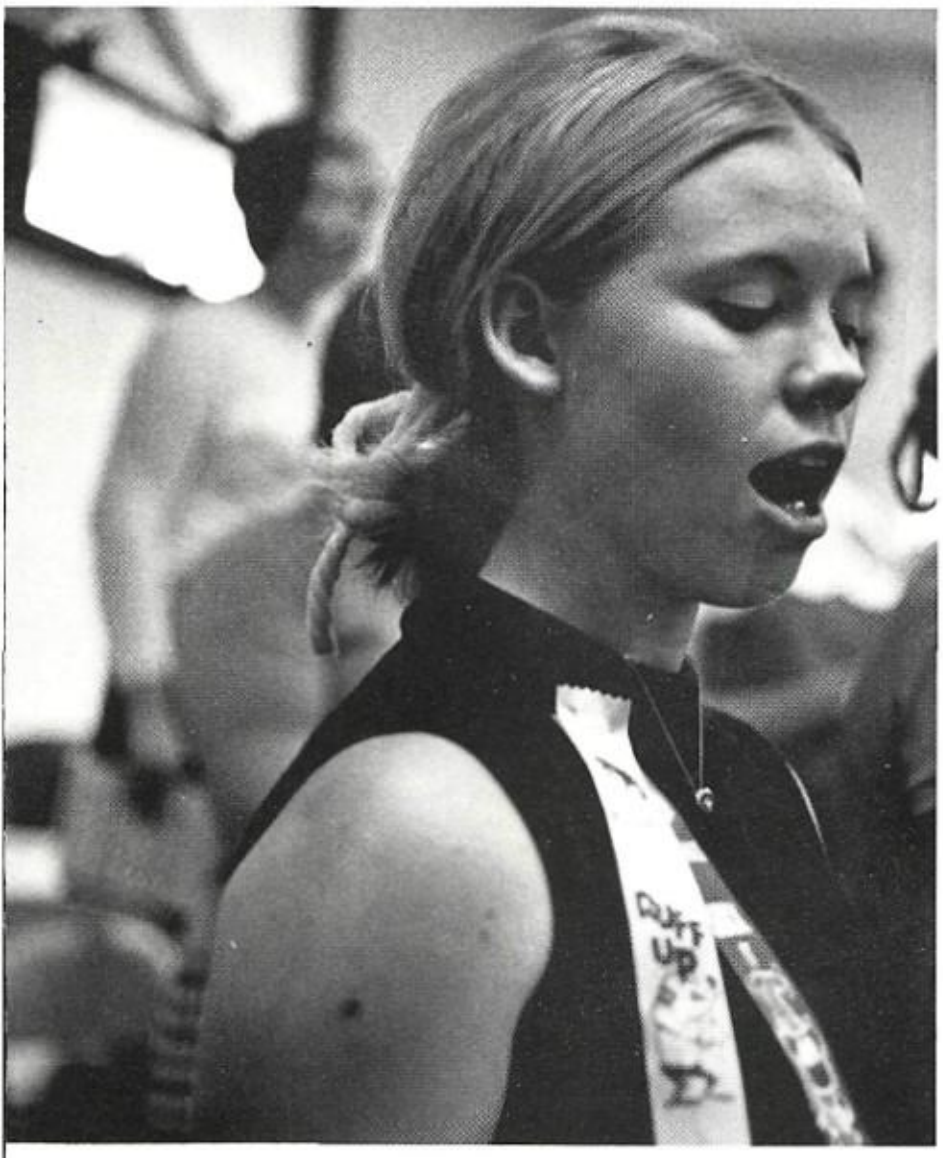
To Develop Interest and Talent



This year at Aldine, the band and choir were off to a new start with two new directors. "Perhaps we will build a completely new organization," stated the choir teacher, Mrs. Schwartz.

The choir was active in participating in special programs and activities not only at Aldine, but at many other places in Houston. Besides performing in front of the student body, a night concert was given for the benefit of the parents and other interested listeners.

The Aldine band was also active in school functions throughout the year. During the 1969-1970 year the band was led by Mr. Moreau and his assistant, Mr. Atkins. The band not only performed at annual concerts, but presented marching routines at halftime of every football game. The band also performed at each pep rally, and many students felt that the band helped to boost the spirit through the year.

Many students of the band and the choir felt that both classes had undergone changes for the better. Perhaps all of the practice and hard work will someday prove to be worth the effort that the students have put forth through the year.

AHS provided many opportunities for students seeking business jobs by teaching basic skills in various business courses. These courses consisted of general business, bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, business English, and vocational office education.

In these courses developing the basic skill was most important and through that, skill, speed and accuracy developed. Students taking typing and shorthand competed in the Interscholastic League. Typing students were given timed writings and graded on speed and accuracy. Those in shorthand took five minute dictations of 80 words a minute and were graded on the transcriptions. The winners in the competition represented Aldine in the Interscholastic League.

This year the overhead projector was used in typing and bookkeeping. The business teachers were Mrs. Mitchamore, Mrs. Judge, Mrs. Stracener, Mrs. Urban, and Mr. McLaine.

Skills Through Physical Education

Girls at Aldine develop their physical ability with the aid of P. E. by participating in several activities which include basketball, track, football, and volleyball. Modern dance was something new tried this year, where all the girls learned dances from other countries, as well as making their own dances up.

The last six weeks of school was spent swimming. Each girl was put in a group, and worked towards earning a Red Cross card. Besides swimming, relays were held during each class period to add some sport to the girls newly acquired skills.

Boys P. E.

Physical Education classes aimed to improve and perfect the body and mind by means of selected forms of physical activity. Also, by participating in competitive games, the importance of teamwork was stressed, which helped to create good sportsmanship.

After starting off each day with a few minutes of warm-up exercises, the boys would participate in some type of sport or game. Among the various sports offered were football, basketball, track, softball, soccer, swimming, and dodge-ball. Furthermore, before the boys participated in a sport, they were taught the background or history and some of the basic fundamentals needed to perform well in the sport.

The school required all boys to take at least one semester of Health Education. This was set up to teach the boys good health habits including hygiene, good grooming, first aid, manners, and citizenship.

Cosmetology was a class of twenty eight girls learning the methods of hairstyling. The three hour class was conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Jackowski. The girls learned cosmetology with the use of a classbook, a kit containing their cosmetology tools, and through practice.

As juniors, the first year students learned the basic skills of cosmetology. The first hour was spent toward skills with the aid of books. The second hour of class was devoted to applying these skills. The skills were applied to mannequins and their classmates. The first year girls also learned the professional ethics of cosmetology. At the end of the year these girls had enough skill and knowledge to deal with the public.

The second year girls continued their basic skills and strived for a professional touch. These girls applied their style to patrons of the Aldine area. At completion of this course, the girls went to Austin for exams and obtained their license to practice cosmetology in various beauty salons.

Expression Through Art

What picture would we have of yesteryear without art?

At AHS four years of art is offered to interested students. A beginning student first learned the basic art principles. After using these principles, the students tested their talents by using water colors, charcoals, pastel chalks, and acrylics. Creating scenes are not the only thing tried in art. Students got to try their hand at fashion designing and at anatomy.

At various times throughout the year projects created by students were exhibited. Later in the year they were rated and judged by a number of art critics. Ribbons were given to the outstanding works of art. Thus, throughout art, students tested their ability at creating all types of work of art.

Homemaking

Bouillabaisse, a familiar expression? Maybe not to you, but at Aris Grenovilles, a French Restaurant, where third year homemaking classes visited, this might be common. Also on the agenda for homemaking was a trip to Fingers Furniture store and one to Solomon Fabrics.

For Mrs. Stavinoha, head of the department, Mrs. Wilkerson, Mrs. January, and Mrs. Cooper the school year started in the summer. They supervised girls working for one half of a credit by going on field trips, doing home projects, and by helping in elementary schools in the Head Start program.

During the school year the teachers were kept busy teaching nutrition and foods, menu planning, clothing, child care, grooming, family relations, and home safety.

Besides F.H.A., another organization affiliated with homemaking is Young Homemakers of Texas. Aldine's chapter has fifty members. While conducting their monthly meeting, students babysat for the Y.H.T. mothers.

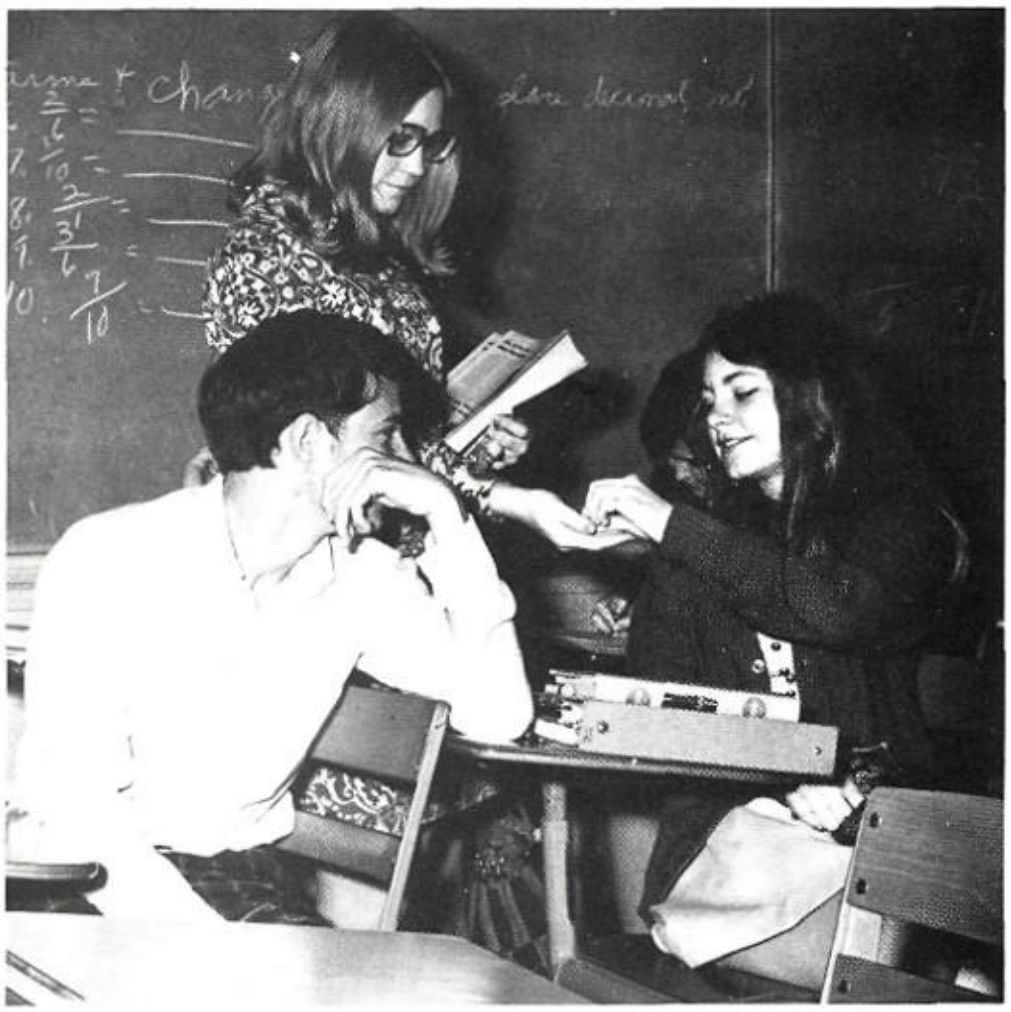
Yields the Roundup and Mustang



The Journalism Department at Aldine consists of a yearbook class, one journalism class, and the newspaper staff. All classes worked year around to give students the benefit of a newspaper and yearbook.

The journalism class wrote stories for the MUSTANG, and interviewed teachers and students. They sold ads to help support the paper, and when an issue of the MUSTANG came out, they were there to sell it to the students and teachers at Aldine. This class offered students who wished to develop their talents a chance to express themselves.

Members of the MUSTANG staff, who made up the copy of the newspaper, also worked very hard. They also wrote stories which appeared in the MUSTANG.

Yearbook members also sold ads and made interviews. The class went to Taylor Publishing Company to learn how the ROUNDUP was published. A record number of yearbooks, 931, were sold, and the yearbook students worked constantly in order to put out the best yearbook ever.

Both classes worked to give the students at Aldine a better MUSTANG and ROUNDUP.

Theory Is Practiced in Air Conditioning and Refrigeration

"Of course, it is easy for the graduating students of this class to acquire jobs in air conditioning and refrigeration, but they are also qualified to go directly into Stationary Engineering," stated Mr. Simmang, who taught these subjects.

These two courses, each of which consisted of three hours, were broken up into two sessions. Theory consumed the first hour and actual work on the theory learned covered the remaining two hours. Impaired equipment was donated to these students who then repaired and resold the working material.

"The classes work under an informal atmosphere, but with the leadership of Mr. Simmang the work is always accomplished," stated Alan Brannon, first year student.

Vocational Course Offers Basic Fundamentals of Mechanics

Auto Mechanics, a vocational course, is taught to junior and senior students who are interested in the automotive field. The daily three hour class is divided into theory and actual working experience on old automobiles donated by friends, family, and members of the faculty. The activities of the year included field trips to places such as Mort Hall Ford, and also participating in District and State VICA meets. At the end of the two year course, the young men had studied all phases and parts of the automobile and received a Vocational Certificate from the Texas Education Agency.

Literature

All fifteen of Aldine's English teachers attempted to teach the students at Aldine something of the fascinating characters in our literature. The freshman classes studied Great Expectations, which was written by Charles Dickens. These students shall always remember their first encounter with Pip and Miss Havisham. Aldine's sophomore class met Silas Marner, the miser who found happiness without money. The juniors had a somewhat varied selection of novels. While some students were reading The Scarlet Letter and The Crucible, others were reading The Pearl. Thus, the students ended a year with a bit of knowledge of literature.

In Senior English, composition is stressed more than literature to prepare students for college. Humanities is offered to the students who wish to study literature more seriously. These students attended the Alley Theatre every month to see such plays as The Rose Tattoo and The Andersonville Trials. Journalism, Communicative English, or Business English is offered if Senior English is not preferred.

Animal Farm Highlights Vocational Agriculture

This year at AHS the Vocational Agricultural classes raised their animals as exhibits for the annual Ag. show at a new permanent location. Mr. David R. Schoenemann donated an area of land located on Aldine Westfield and Sandydale Road, as an animal farm for the boys to take care of their stock that was to be entered in the annual project show in April.

Classes were taught by Mr. Joe Woodland and Mr. David McCullough. Some of the procedures taught in the classes concerned the preparations of meats, care of animals, soil care, and the knowledge of machinery used in everyday, outdoor living. Also, during the year the agricultural classes were responsible for the building of the annual bonfire as a part of homecoming celebrations.

Industrial Arts Advance New Skills

Drafting and woodshop, the two Industrial Arts classes, taught students basic skills needed in future jobs of engineering, drafting, and construction. Accuracy, neatness, and safety were stressed in both courses.

In drafting, students were taught skills in technical and architectural drafting. Work in the class consisted of learning new techniques and drawing different architectural plans. Outside of the class, the architectural drafting class went to Astro Hall to see the home builders show. Also, along with the woodshop classes, the drafting classes watched the construction of the new addition at A.H.S. Ideas were expressed by the use of lines, signs, and symbols. Technical drafting taught students the basic fundamentals of drafting. Those who wished to continue drafting were able to get summer jobs on drafting projects.

Woodshop trained students in the building and construction of wooden projects. Instructions in the use of tools and machinery emphasized safety. Skills were developed through home projects. This course not only gave students a chance to help with house repairs, but also provided them with a hobby.

These constructive courses, which made up the Industrial Arts Department, prepared Aldine boys for future jobs in industry.

Distributive Education: The Techniques of Selling

Distributive Education helped many students interested in the techniques of selling to learn about retailing and wholesaling. Not only did these students learn about merchandising, marketing and advertising, but also about human relations. This vocational program gave each student a chance to develop leadership and responsibility. Working in the school store was one of the various ways to learn about working with others. In Distributive Education each student was placed in a place of business which would prepare them for their future life.

ACTIVITIES

Parties and socials were always events anticipated.

Homecoming was the first all-school activity in which each person took part.

The Prom was the ultimate of rush, and much hurried care was given to forgotten details,

But graduation was the source of escape and the end of the maze.

September Opens Halls of

September opened the halls of Aldine once again this year with a record enrollment of 1700. To help accommodate these new students, temporary buildings were put up until a new wing could be built and a new snack bar and student lounge was added to the cafeteria.

Class meetings were held and officers were elected. The seniors received their rings, and the annual Howdy Dance, featuring the Ninth Street Bridge, was sponsored by the Aldine High School Student Congress. Friends got together once again, and the new students became acquainted with the old.

Pep rallies, football games, and the selling of the ROUNDUP brought about the enthusiasm needed to start a new year at AHS.

The junior class sold magazine subscriptions in order to earn money for the Junior-Senior prom to be held in May. Prizes were awarded to the top salesmen, and everyone who sold ten dollars worth, received an Aldine pennant.

September closed with the spirit of another year off to a great start.

Crowded conditions in the cafeteria were quite difficult to get used to until a new student lounge and new additions to cafeteria could be built.

October Was Marked by Spirit

Filled with signs of spirit, the month of October was full of activities. Centered around football season, the team had the support of the student body. The students and the faculty expressed their spirit by their good attendance at football games.

The month was highlighted by Spirit Week. This included a night pep rally before the MacArthur game. Spirit chants could be held in the halls of Aldine throughout the week. Aldine's traditional blue and white was worn often by the students and faculty. Competition between homerooms was displayed by the door decorations of spirit. Spirit week was ended by the judges decision to award the Band Hall first place.

November came and brought with it many varied activities. The first week was a busy one for the seniors of A.H.S. who were planning and decorating for Homecoming. The overall enthusiasm and spirit was even further stimulated by the annual bonfire held the night before the big game. Led by the cheerleaders and the band, many spectators yelled and cheered for the "Mighty Mustangs." Football season came to a victorious close with the second place title in District 15AAAA. Basketball season then got off to a start with many tournaments and games. The Future Homemakers of America sponsored the "Fall Fantasy," a formal dance held at the Field Inn on November 21. Also during the month, the O.E.A., the band, and other various clubs held bake sales during the lunch periods, as money making projects. "Antic Spring," a one act play presented by the Drama Department, brought an end to the full-scheduled month of November.

Candidates Wait for Crowning

The senior class nominated Lola McDonald, Charlotte Gist, and Libby Burtner as candidates for the 1967-70 Homecoming Queen. Charlotte Gist was elected queen, and Lola McDonald and Libby Burtner were elected princesses.

The candidates walked from under the goal posts to the 50 yard line and then were escorted to the platform. Then Charlotte Gist was crowned 1969-70 Homecoming Queen, She was crowned by Nancy Murray, last year's Queen, and was presented a dozen red roses by Victor Mikeska, president of the senior class.

Charlotte has held many offices during her years at Aldine. She served as a cheerleader for two years, and was vice-president of her senior class. During her junior year she served the junior class as secretary and was a G.S.L. representative. In her sophomore year Charlotte also served as secretary and was elected Most Beautiful Sophomore. She was elected vice-president and Most Popular of the freshman class. Charlotte has also been a member of the Student Council for two years and a member of FHA.

Seniors Honor Classes of 1939 and 1959

As is traditional, the senior class held a Homecoming dance. This year the classes of 1939 and 1959 were honored.

The band, The Liquid Blue, added to the excitement of the dance. At the dance the senior class gave Charlotte Gist a silver charm and charm bracelet and Mrs. Tyson, head senior sponsor, was presented with a bouquet of roses. Later, exes were introduced and everyone began re-acquainting old friendships. Also as an added activity the Madrigals performed.

As the evening ended, the dance proved to have been enjoyable and a pleasant finish to the 1969-70 Homecoming activities.

December Brings Many Activities . . .

AHS students took an active part in the many activities planned for the month of December. As Christmas drew near, students became aware of other's needs by participating in the annual Adopt One program. The Future Nurses club, sponsoring this program, sorted many gifts which had been donated by each homeroom. Many homerooms held projects in conjunction with this program. A shoe shine was one of those original money making projects held by one homeroom.

Maxi Day was an added attraction this year. Many girls came to school outfitted in their floor-length skirts and coats.

On December 16, the choir presented its annual Christmas concert. The choir sang carols such as "The Birthday of a King" and "Do You Hear What I Hear."

Christmas decorations were placed in the student lounge by the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Two old-fashioned Christmas trees were placed in the student lounge and the cafeteria as added decorations.

To highlight the Christmas season, the annual Christmas Social was sponsored by the Student Congress. Away from the usual tradition, the dress was changed to formal and semi-formal. Music was provided by "The Michael."

Mustangs Honored at Football Banquet

The "MIGHTY MUSTANGS" were honored at the annual Football Banquet, Thursday, December 4. After the banquet dinner, the Varsity lettermen, Junior Varsity lettermen, and the Freshman lettermen were awarded for their effort during the football season.

Don Burrisk and John Stember were highly honored. At the banquet, the Most Valuable Player award was presented to Don Burrisk. This award is given each year to the player who has proven to be valuable to the team, and who has shown leadership and the best attitude. John Stember was given the "Mustang Fighting Heart Award". To receive this award, a player should possess such qualities as fighting spirit, leadership, fair play, and willingness to participate in all athletic activities.

Career Day Highlights Exam Month

Small Debbie Bacala struggles with a load of books through exam week.

Studying, worrying, and cramming for exams came with the first of January. Each exam was limited to one hour, but this did not lessen the studying that had to be done by most students. Freshmen were introduced to high school exams and had various opinions concerning them. Freshman, Pam O'dell commented, "They were harder than I had expected."

The first month in 1970 was welcomed along with three district victories in varsity basketball. After exams, girls' P.E. started their intramural basketball games and excitement mounted as to which team would be the school champion.

Many new students entered Aldine for the second semester and schedules were changed and rearranged for previous students. The counselors' offices were filled with students who needed schedule changes.

Business Career Day was the highlight of January. This event was sponsored by V.O.E. The entire school turned out to examine the office equipment. Many students and teachers listened with intent interest as exhibitors demonstrated and explained the typewriters, adding machines, computors, telephones, and other office equipment. Armed Forces Vocational Aptitude Battery tests concluded the month.

Class Elections Climax February

February activities were based around class elections. Class favorites were nominated at meetings and then voted on.

This month also brought the girls intramural basketball game. The game was held during sixth period and the gym was packed. After the game trophies were awarded to the winning team and the all-star basketball team was announced.

February was an active month for the junior class. It was the time for their social, which was held to help pay for the prom. There were booths ready for an old time carnival. There was a cake walk, a fish pond filled with prizes, and many other fun-filled activities. Along with the booths, a band was provided to supply music for dancing.

Seniors Highlight March

March was filled with a number of activities which kept the student body, especially the Seniors, busy during the month. The traditional senior picture was made. Invitations were delivered to the Seniors and they ordered their caps and gowns.

Cheerleading tryouts were held March 25 in the auditorium. Six girls were chosen to serve as the 1970-'71 cheerleaders. The elected cheerleaders included Pat Gist, Suzanne Florence, Shirley Okabayashi, Irma Gonzales, Terry McLean, and Gayle Strickland.

The Coronation, sponsored by the Roundup staff, was held March 20. This annual event highlighted the month of March.

Central Park as Theme

Again this year the ROUNDUP presented the annual Coronation. This year the theme was that of springtime in Central Park.

On that night there was a sense of excitement and anticipation of the coming winners. The judges, who interviewed the candidates for most beautiful and handsome, before the Coronation, had to make difficult decisions.

When the Coronation began the Master and Mistress of Ceremonies introduced the Aldine Club representatives and all the candidates for Most Beautiful and Handsome. Also at this time the candidates for Mr. and Miss Aldine were introduced. The crowning of Mr. and Miss Aldine was the highlight of the evening. Afterwards the royal court was entertained by talented students. The results of the Most Handsome and Beautiful of the classes and of the whole school were then given at the end of the Coronation.

According to yearbook sponsor, Mr. Wilson, this Coronation proved to be one of the most beautiful ones and that it had taken much hard work by the yearbook staff to complete.

Excitement Mounts a

With May came many activities for all and the excitement of another school year coming to a close. The choir and band gave their annual spring concert May 7 and 21. The last Junior-Senior Prom was held May 8 at the Marriott. Sponsored by the Vaqueras, the faculty challenged each other in a volleyball game. The Awards Assembly was held May 19 and many students were given awards for their outstanding work. The baseball season proved to be superior by the team winning bi-district over Spring Branch and Regional over Waco-Richfield.

Seniors highlighted the closing of the 1970 school year. Senior caps and gowns were distributed on May 18, and May 22 was designated as Senior cap day. Seniors were honored at the Senior Banquet held May 22. The long awaited day of Graduation May 28th, finally came for the Seniors as the 1970 school year came to a close.

"The Old World" was the theme presented at the Junior-Senior Prom on May 8. The prom was held at the Marriott Motor Hotel. Since the decorations of the ballroom were provided by the Marriott, the Juniors were able to serve refreshments. The refreshments included pretzels, hors d'oeuvres, potato chips, finger sandwiches, cokes and punch.

This year the Junior class gave the Senior girls small silver jewelry cases. Also the junior girls presented the junior sponsors with gifts of appreciation. Many students said that this was the most successful prom the junior class had given in many years.

Graduation — a far away dream for Seniors, soon becomes a reality. Now their thoughts must turn to the future.

The seniors last time together as a class was at the commencement. The commencement exercises began with the processional as the band played "March Triumphal." Victor Mikeska, the Senior Class President, opened the ceremony with the invocation. Bob Bostwick then gave his Salutatorian address. The choir, directed by Loreli Schwartz, sang "No Man is an Island" and "Bridge Over Troubled Waters." Valedictorian, Leonard Truett, then spoke of the real meaning of life. Dr. W. C. Newberry, Assistant Professor of Education at Southwest Texas State College, brought the commencement address. The diplomas were then presented to the Seniors by Chester H. Reese, the President of the Board of Education. The commencement came to a close with the recessional "Pomp and Circumstance."

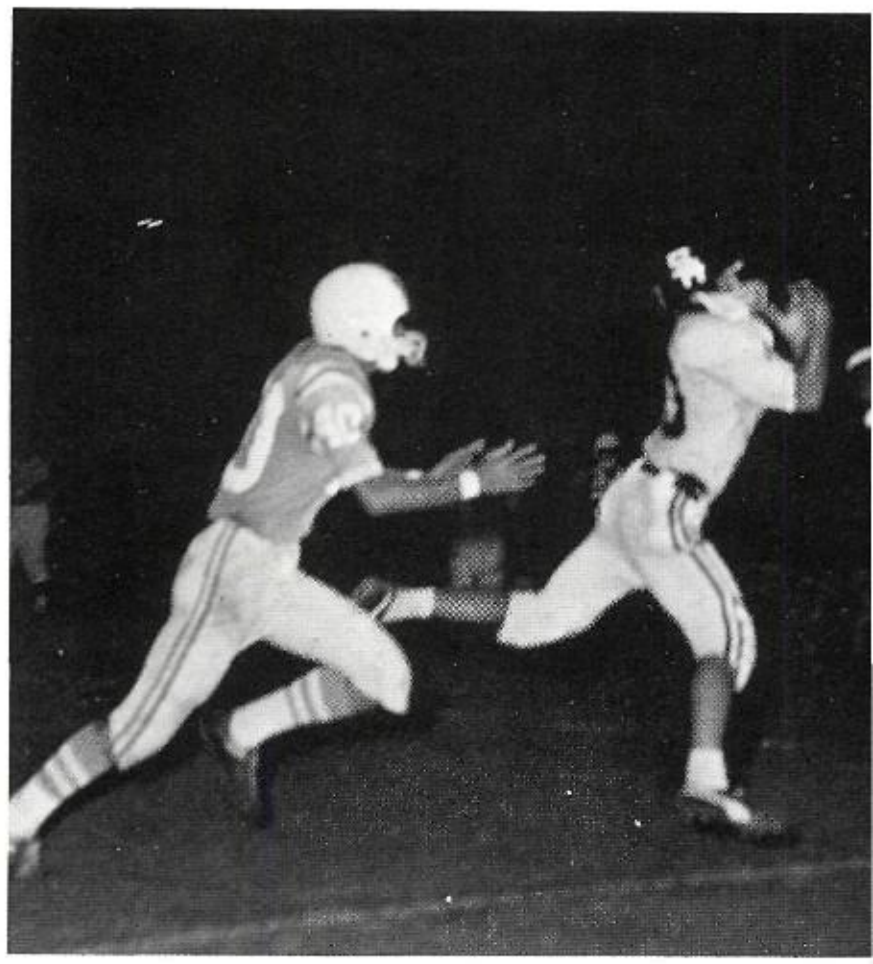
Aldine Bows to Sam Houston

The Aldine Mustangs got off to a slow start as they opened their 1969-70 football season by losing to Sam Houston. In the opening quarter Aldine's halfback Don Burrisk scored Aldine's first touchdown in a one yard dive. In the second quarter, Sam Houston's quarterback Robert Armstrong found split end Bobby Huges 50 yards in the end zone for the final Sam Houston score. At halftime the score was tied 7-7. The second half was completely Sam Houston's as they put 13 more points on the scoreboard to make the final score Sam Houston 20, Aldine 7.



This was a rare occurrence for, that Friday, a Sam Houston pass was incomplete.

Don Burrisk ran all over Delmar Stadium as the Aldine Mustangs stomped over the Reagan Bulldogs. Burrisk was a hard luck runner who gained 189 yards on 18 carries in a game which was highlighted by almost 300 yards of penalty yardage. He scored two touchdowns but had three more called back on runs of 25, 70, and 84 yards. Phillip Terrell also scored two touchdowns and was second to Burrisk in rushing with 63 yards in 10 carries.

Scoring honors were distributed evenly between the Aldine squad, while George Crisp opened the scoring with a 25 yard field goal. Don Burrisk then scored on a 17 yard run, and a little later James Bates scored on a 25 yard pass from Ross. The Aldine Mustangs beat archrival MacArthur Generals in everything but scoring. Fumbles again plagued Aldine as they threatened to score 3 more times inside the 20 yard line. Aldine opened with two quick touchdowns in the first period with Don Burrisk knifing over from the eight and Phillip Terrell, on an end around, going in from 28 yards. MacArthur kicked a field goal with no seconds showing on the clock to make the score 17-14 at half. With 18 seconds left in the game George Crisp attempted a field goal that failed. The Mustangs scored in every quarter and gained 305 yards rushing while throwing only five passes as they squared their season record at 4-4 and league mark at 1-1. Jackets Kill District Hopes

Don Burrisk, following the blocking of Edwin Dewberry, gains crucial yardage in the first quarter.

On Homecoming night, the Galena Park Yellow Jackets killed Aldine's hopes for a district title with a 26-12 victory. But it was Aldine who struck first as the Mustangs used a 44 yard pass interception by James Carter to set up a 42 yard George Crisp field goal. But on the following Aldine kickoff, Galena Park halfback Billy Hearn raced 87 yards for a touchdown making the score 7-3. In the third quarter, Aldine regained the lead, when Phillip Terrell, rambling 56 yards, broke three tackles for T.D. District champs looked mighty good at that moment but on the following kickoff, "lightening" struck again as Galena Park's Eddie McClure ran it back until Leonard Truett pushed him out of bounds at the seven yard line.

Mustangs Second in District

George Crisp, in his other role as defensive halfback, moves in for the kill.

The Aldine Mustangs took second place in District 15AAAA as the Ponies outlasted the North Shore Mustangs 26-21 at Dement Stadium. Coming off a heart-breaking loss to Galena Park the week before which knocked the Mustangs out of contention for first place in district, Aldine had to beat the big red to gain a second place finish. Don Burrisk, having one of his usual nights, gained 206 yards rushing and scored all four Aldine touchdowns. This brought his rushing total yardage up to 1717 yards making him the leading rusher in the district. Leading defense consisted of James Carter who made two key interceptions late in the game which killed two North Shore scoring threats.

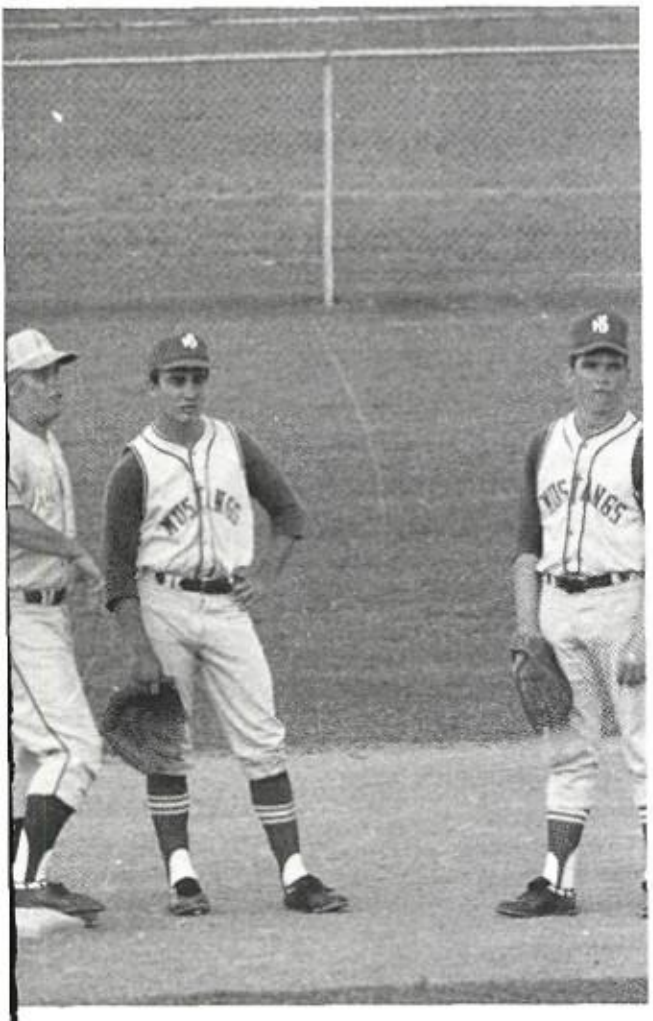
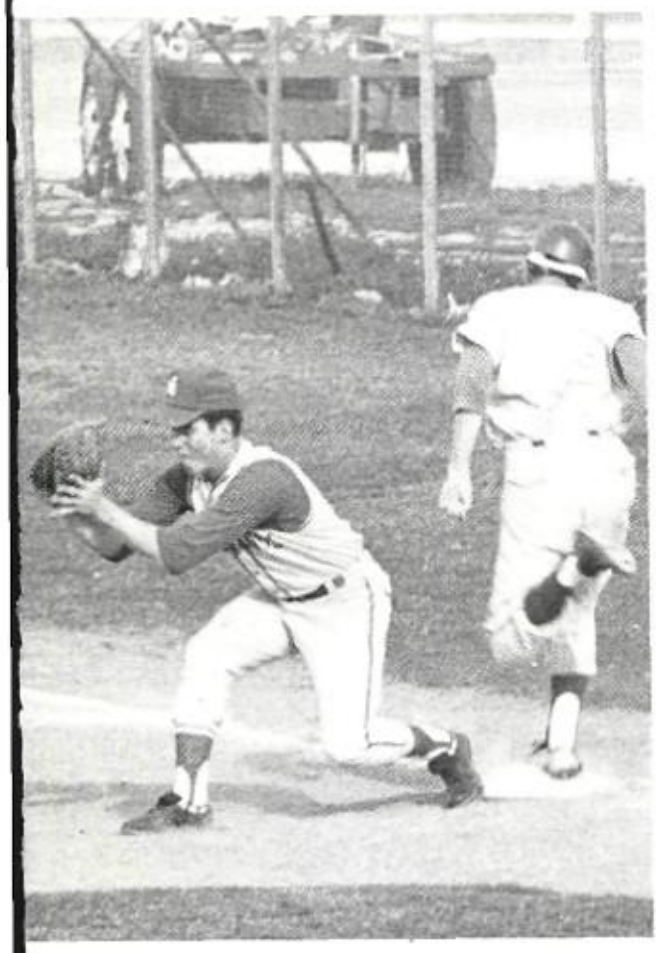
Aldine Wins Its 1st State Title!



Billy McElroy "talks" to the North Shore Mustangs.



Paul Miller beats out an infield hit.

With a 7-0 district record and the 15AAAA district championship behind them, the scrappy, determined Mustangs went on to win the 1970 Class AAAA Baseball State Championship, the first in Aldine's history. The curveballing Glenn Bryant and Stan Stockley teamed up at Austin to pitch a no-hitter at Bellaire, only the seventh in state meet history. Phillip Terrell led the 4-0 Aldine shutout with a perfect three-for-three night against Bellaire, including a run-scoring double.

After winning district, Aldine started off right towards eventual state championship by beating Spring Branch in both bi-district games, 8-0 and 3-2. In the first game James Bates and Edwin Dewberry had three hits with the entire team collecting 11 hits. Aldine won the second game at the bottom of the seventh inning when Leonard Truett hit a perfect "suicide" bunt to get Larry Reneau home from third base. With the win of bi-district, the Mustangs went on to the regional playoffs against Waco-Richfield.

In the first game against Waco, Aldine won 7-2 with the pitching of Glenn Bryant who struck out 12 and tossed a three-hitter. Richfield's Rams won the second game 4-0 with three Aldine errors aiding the win. The Mustangs had to win the third game and did 3-2. In the first inning Aldine tallied three unearned runs and at the bottom of the seventh Waco scored twice on two Aldine errors. Paul Miller scored first from third base when Bryant got to first on Waco's second error. Waco's third error put Phil Terrell aboard and moved Bryant to second. Billy McElroy singled down the third base line, scoring Bryant, and Larry Reneau singled home Terrell with a shot up the middle. Bryant went the distance striking out nine and walking seven, for the victory which advanced Aldine to the Region II final against Fort Worth Wyatt.

The Mustangs scored four times in the 10th inning to defeat Fort Worth Wyatt 9-5 in the first game of the regional playoffs at Fort Worth. Bryant walked nine and struck out 13. Aldine scored a run in the third on a single by James Bates, an error, a bunt single by Bryant and McElroy's squeeze bunt. They added four in the fifth on singles by Miller, Bates and Ed Dewberry and three errors by the Wyatt catcher. A four-run rally on singles by Miller, Bates, Bryant and Dewberry, and a two-run error by Fort Worth's left fielder won it for Aldine in the 10th inning.

Aldine won the Regional II baseball championship by beating Fort Worth in the second game 4-3, and for the first time in Aldine's history the school made a trip to the University Interscholastic League Baseball State Championship Tournament in Austin.

Down 1-0 in the Wyatt game, Aldine struck for three runs in the fourth on a two-run triple by Terrell and a run scoring single by Bryant. Fort Worth tied it in the sixth and in the bottom of the ninth, two inning over the limit, the Wyatt pitcher walked the bases full of Mustangs and with two out, Bryant delivered a clutch hit down the third base line. This scored Roger Lane from third and was the tie-breaking run which won the regional baseball championship for the Mustangs.

With the regional championship over, Aldine went to the state play-off in Austin, Thursday night, June 11th and beat Lubbock Monterey 2-0. The Mustangs bunched all of their hits, three in the fourth inning for both runs. Miller started it by reaching first on an error. he took second on an infield single by Bates. A bunt single by Terrill loaded the bases. On an attempted squeeze by Bryant, Miller broke for home. Bryant missed getting the bunt down and Miller was hung up. The Lubbock catcher threw back to third and Miller headed for home. The return throw hit Miller in the back as he slid home with the first run. While all that was going on Bates scored on a wild pitch by the Monterey pitcher. Bryant, up to 14-1, turned to his curve when the going got rough. He walked nine and had eleven strike-outs.

The following night, June 12th, Aldine met Bellaire, won the state championship game and made history, for never in U.I.L. history has two Houston based schoolboy teams played against each other for the state championship in the state tournament.

Glenn Bryant, in the three innings against Bellaire, walked five and struck out five, but in the fourth inning, with his arm in great pain from having pitched the entire game against Lubbock the night before, he was relieved by Shockley. Aldine's first run came in the first when Miller reached first on an error, went to second on a wild pitch and scored when Bellaire's right fielder booted Terrell's single. In the third inning, Bates was safe on a Card error, stole second and scored on Terrell's double deep in the left-center alley. The Mustangs won the game in the fourth with two runs, all coming after two outs. In-field singles by Reneau, Shockley, and Truett, plus two wild pitches by Bellaire pitcher Jim Miller and a Card boot, got the runs. Reneau scored after card catcher Marc Mullins dropped the ball after a tag at home and Lane, in for Shockley, scored on a wild pitch by Card pitcher Miller.

Of the nine players Coach Skog used most in the play-offs, only two will return. Back will be Dewberry and Reneau, but Bryant, Shockley, Terrell, Truett, Miller, Bates and McElroy all graduated.

ORGANIZATIONS

The clubs brought an abundance of socials and parties.
Money-raising projects — sometimes successful, sometimes fruitless,
A flood of call meetings,
But all this was a necessary part of the hustle and bustle.

Cheerleaders Boos

GO! FIGHT! WIN! This cheer and many more were heard over and over throughout the year as the eight cheerleaders led the Mustangs to victory. This year the eight cheerleaders were: Lola McDonald (head cheerleader), Charlotte Gist, Suzanne Florence, Pat Gist, Victor Mikeska, Ray Goss, Ricky Maze, and Bill Rawson.

This year the cheerleaders went to camp at Southern Methodist University to learn new skills and new cheers. During camp the AHS cheerleaders, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Tina Thomas, visited Six Flags. The AHS group returned to Aldine holding three first places and two second places and with the spirit stick from camp.

After camp the cheerleaders came home and supported the MIGHTY MUSTANGS all the way to victory. They were active throughout the seasons of football, basketball, track, and baseball by attending the games and making posters to boost school spirit.

Due to Miss Thomas's departure from Aldine at the end of the semester, Miss Tremble accepted the responsibilities of being the new cheerleader sponsor.

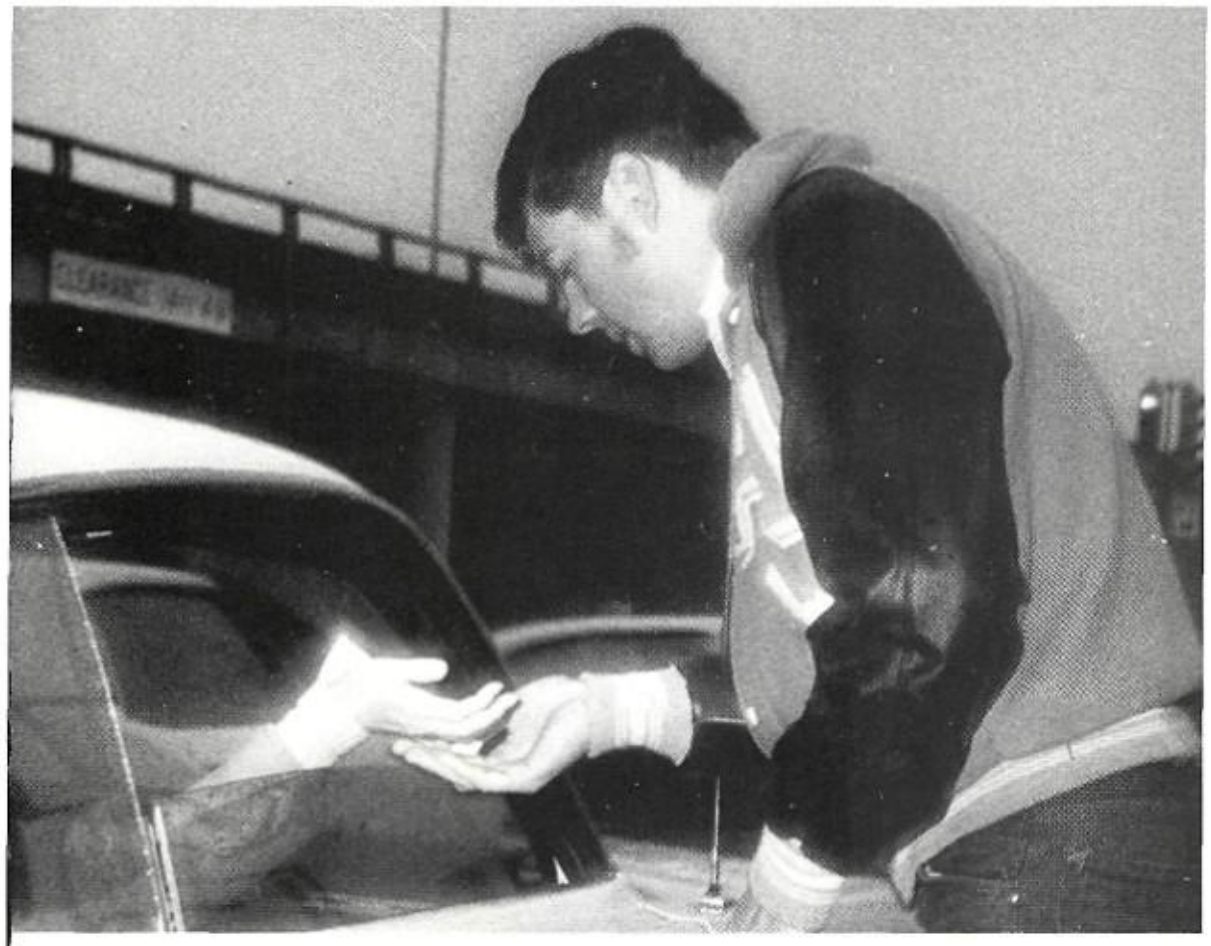
With Projects



This year the Student Council changed their name to the Student Congress. The officers Bill Cochran, Cathy Spivey, Carolyn Byrd, Roger Lane, Liz Spivey and Sam Elliott began their job in a summer workshop. They changed the constitution to form a Student Congress. This included a Student Senate being represented by the president of each organization. The House of Representatives included a certain percentage of students from each class. These two groups of people combined, formed the Congress.

Many activities were carried on by the Student Congress. They began the year by having a Spirit Week before the big game with the MacArthur Generals. Another activity was the sale of parking stickers for the students to park in the school parking lot. The Congress also participated in a March of Dimes fund raising program sponsored by the city of Houston. Another activity was the collection taken up for the V. A. Cemetery Carillon bells. These activities kept the congress occupied for the '69-'70 year.

The congress wasn't all work and no play though, for they sponsored three dances. First, the Howdy Dance. This dance was a salute and "get together" for all new students. Next, was the Christmas Dance which was a formal dance with a live band. The last dance was the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. This dance was full of many activities. The NHS sold and auctioned off lunches, the students danced in the cafeteria, and booths were set up for the students.

Choir Active Around Houston

The AHS choir was active in participating in performances not only at Aldine, but at many other places in Houston. For example, the choir sang at a benefit program at the Ben Taub Memorial Hospital in Houston. The choir also sang for the Kiwanis Club and for the Aldine PTA. The choir performed at Christmas in a concert at night for students, parents, and other interested listeners. Some of the selections sung were: "While By My Sheep," a popular arrangement of "Sleigh Bells," and many other popular numbers. The choir also performed in the Spring in a decorated night concert in the AHS auditorium. The choir ended the year with a concert at Baccalaureate and at Commencement exercises.

The choir club had two socials throughout the year. The choir officers planned these socials. The first social was a caroling party and the students went caroling around Hidden Valley and other neighboring areas. The second social was in the Spring and was a picnic held at Huntsville State Park. These socials helped to round out the year for the students in choir.

Honor Society Celebrates

1970 marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Willie B. Ermel Chapter of the National Honor Society. Serving as officers for the new year were Bob Bostwick, president; Theresa Brown, vice-president; Vicki Reynolds, secretary; and Libby Burtner, reporter.

The Honor Society did much throughout the year to serve the school and the community. A Welcome Party was held to welcome all students new to the district. bumper stickers and mustang decals were sold to raise money for the scholarship given away each year. Profit from the sale of student directories also went toward the scholarship fund. A series of three bake sales were held by the Honor Society, also. The money received from these was donated to the National Education Television station. An added project by the society this year was the sponsoring of a box supper on April 10.

Due to the fact that Aldine's Honor Society had been established for twenty-five years, the annual Birthday Party was a main event on the chapter's calendar. Mrs. W. B. Ermel, founder of Aldine's chapter, was honored and Bob Bostwick, Roger Lane, Lola McDonald, and Terry Laird provided the entertainment. Refreshments were served to former members by the present members.

The Honor Society served the student body in many ways throughout the year.

Mrs. Lynda Drewes

The Aldine Vaqueras of 1969-1970, under the direction of Mrs. Lynda Drewes, began a year of many activities by attending camp at Stephen F. Austin State University. Then by practicing for two and one-half weeks during the summer they learned many dancing and marching routines. All of this was in preparation for football season, when the group marched with the Mustang band and also did dance routines. Immediately following football season the girls began performances at the home basketball games, one of which was a novelty Indian dance performed in costume.

Some of the other activities included ushering at the Ice Capades. A banquet was held to reveal the officers for the coming year. Also, senior awards and trophies were given. After a year of activities, the Vaqueras felt a part of Aldine by their real participation in school functions.

After forming the "H" of the traditional "AHS," the Vaqueras march off the football field to the band's drum roll.

Symphonic Band Participates i

Aldine's Symphonic Band began practicing marching and playing two weeks before school started. During the half-time at football games the band performed with the Majorettes and Vaqueras. On October 12 they attended the Band Day at the University of Houston. The Marching Band Contest was held on November 15. The Christmas Concert by the Band highlighted the month of December. Early in the year the band attended the UIL contest. They brought home many honors this year such as awards in Solo and Ensemble, All District, All Region, All Area, and Glenna Hall was the band member who placed in the All State Band. They ended the year by participating in the Buchaneer Festival in Corpus Christi and by performing two spring band concerts.

Concert Band Practice

For the second time in a row, the band was split into two major divisions. They were the A Band or Symphonic Band, and the B Band or Concert Band. Fifty-one members took part in the Concert Band. Mr. Morris Atkins was the director for the Concert Band. The purpose for the two bands was to work with a smaller number of people to obtain perfection on their instruments.

The Concert Band this year participated in the same activities as the Symphonic Band, except for the Buchaneer Festival in Corpus Christi. They have also participated in a Christmas Concert and two spring band concerts. They spent long hours of practice and devoted much of their time to out-of-school activities.

Twirlers Lead Mustang Band

Leading the '69-'70 Aldine Mustang Band were nine majorettes. They were: Caron Hays, Gail Edwards, Debbie Davis, Jean Hagood, Linda Montgomery, Vickie Richardson, Candy Maloney, Assistant Majorette: Pam Title, and Head Majorette: Jan Sommerfield.

One requirement for being a majorette was that she must be in the band. Trying out in front of a panel of judges in the spring, they were chosen for their skill, coordination, and form. Last summer they attended the Sam Houston Twirling School to learn new techniques and skills.

The majorettes began practicing with the band weeks before school started and have been active ever since. They have performed at a number of pep rallies this year to boost the spirit of the student body. During half-time at all football games they displayed their talent by performing many new and various routines such as twirling with fire and marching steps.

As the new school year began, AHS's librarians, Mrs. Cavitt and Mrs. Buxton, commenced training the new library assistants. The students attended various meetings which aided them in better library workmanship. The most important of the meetings were those held at Clear Creek, Lincoln High School, and St. Pius.

Among the many tasks assigned to the assistants was decorating the library to create a dramatic reading atmosphere. Also, correct filing, storing, and placing of books had to be done at all times. With this in mind, the assistants made another successful year of the library.

With the help of about twenty new members, a season's hard work was celebrated at a banquet at Bordman's Restaurant on May 19, 1970. After having completed their meals, Thespians and their dates waited for the announcements of Thespians honors. Receiving the Best Actor and Best Actress Award were Bob Bostwick for his performance in "Under the Sycamore Tree" and Karen Gates for her performance, also in "Under the Sycamore Tree." The Best Supporting Actor and Actress Awards were presented to Julian Sanchez for his performance in "Up the Down Staircase" and to Jennifer Jackson for her performance in "Antic Spring." The Outstanding Thespian Award was received by John Copeland. Close runners-up for the title (Outstanding Thespian) were Bob Bostwick and Julian Sanchez.

"Once Upon a Playground," written by Jack Franke, confronted the audience with a group of conflicting characters. The casts' personalities were identified by their names. The cast was as follows: Becky Laird as Tootie Shoes, Carol Coley as Dixie Wicks, Jeanine Rhodes as Dibi Fee, Cheryl Eaves as Phoebe Bive, April Thompson as Flirt Stevens, Sherry Dodd as Forda Moore, Debbie James as Wanda Bun, Debbi Miller as Jill (the girl with the funny nose), and Kenneth Walker as Johnny (the boy with the funny nose).

Various Awards

This year the Mustang staff published 10 issues of the MUSTANG. In order to meet the demands of the newspaper the staff sold candy in the months of February through May.

Besides the work they did on the newspaper, the staff went to different conferences and received many honors. During the summer Lisa Armstrong and Bobby House attended the High School Publications Workshop for a week at Texas A&M. In March of 1970 the MUSTANG was awarded a 2nd Division (Award of Achievement) at the state conference in Austin. In May, Kay Smith placed 1st in District and 4th in Regional for newswriting. Also, Bobby House placed 3rd in feature writing.

The Most Valuable Staffer award was given to Lisa Armstrong for her dedication to the MUSTANG newspaper. Lisa Armstrong stated that sponsor, Mrs. Lightfoot, and editor, Phil Hahn, did much to get the MUSTANG through another successful year.

Distributive Education was busy throughout the year at Aldine. D.E.C.A. had a new, promising sponsor last year, Mrs. Baskin. She set up many successful activities for distributive education. They included candy sales, pennant sales, a D.E.C.A. banquet, and auctions at the school store.

The highlight of the activities, the D.E.C.A. banquet, was held on April 3, 1970 at Sonny Look's Restaurant. The guest speaker, Bud Hadfield, entertained the members of the club and their dates with his stories of D.E. Afterwards, the club presented Mrs. Baskin with roses. The D.E.C.A. banquet was highly commended by the members and guests.

Besides all other activities of D.E., the students also held part-time jobs at various shops and businesses in Houston. They left school at 1:10 each day to go to their jobs. Members of D.E.C.A. managed to work at their jobs and still make D.E.C.A. a successful club.

FHA Offers Opportunitie

A popular question among students is: How can I get involved? According to the 1969-70 FHA'ers, the answer is simple: Join the Future Homemakers of America.

Through moneymaking activities such as bake sales, spirit ribbon sales, and candy sales, the Future Homemakers were able to purchase equipment for the homemaking department and furnishings for the living room.

Social activities were a prominent part of the club's year. These activities included: the Fall Fantasy Ball; visits to a nursing home; an all-girl social; the spring style show; teas; and many others. The highlight of the year was National FHA Week. There was a special activity for each day during the week of April 4-11. Patriotism Day, Teacher Appreciation Day, and Color Day are examples of some of those events. Because of the interest in pollution, FHA held a clean-up week toward the end of the 1970 school year.

All these projects add up to involvement with school life and others around you.

The Math and Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Watson and Mr. Marion, scheduled several field trips this year. Some members of the club went to the Sam Houston Museum and Planetarium in Huntsville on November 21. On May 14, they visited the Museum of Natural Science and examined the exhibit on the history of the American Indian and viewed the extensive medical section.

To be a member of this club, one must have at least an 85 over-all grade average. Members may participate in academic competition at various colleges. This year students went to Texas A&M University to take chemistry, math, and slide rule tests. Some members of the Math and Science Club competed in the slide rule division in the UIL contest — Victor Garcia won a first place award, Buddy Peake won a second place award, and Tracy Grier won a third place award. Members of the club were awarded pins at the conclusion of the year.

As the first deadline drew near the Roundup staff hurriedly finished one section of the yearbook. After one semester of selling ads, of which each student is required to sell $200 worth, the staff settled down to routine work. In October a trip to Dallas was taken to tour the Taylor Publishing Company. While there the staff visited Six Flags. The profits from the Coronation, the selling of booster ads, and money from autograph books went toward financing the yearbook. To celebrate the ending of a successful year, the staff took a picnic lunch to Huntsville State Park on May 17.

FFA Members Prepar

Aldine's Future Farmers of America held their eleventh annual project show on April 2, 3, and 4, 1970. A barbeque and dance was held at the school to celebrate the opening of the 1970 project show. The 118 members of Aldine's chapter of FFA chose Suzanne Florence as their sweetheart earlier in the year. Suzanne participated in the project as well as the boys. The highlight of the show was the actual judging of the grand champion steer which was won by the steer owned by Douglas Goodwin.

First and second year Auto Mechanics students formed the Auto Mechanics Club. They raised money to buy new equipment for the shop.

Several members attended the District III meet in Pasadena on March 6 and 7. They also attended the State meet in Austin on April 16.

Second year students were able to go on field trips to Northline Dodge and River Oaks Chrysler Plymouth to get an idea of what they would be involved in as future mechanics.

Roundup Staff Goes to Dallas

Again this year the Roundup staff toured the Taylor Publishing Company, except this time the Aldine MacArthur yearbook staff made the tour with them. The staff arrived in Dallas around 10:00 on a school bus and toured the plant around 11:00, learning a few of the steps involved in publishing a yearbook.

This year the staff decided to stay overnight at the Arlington Motor Inn. After the tour, everyone was glad to get to the motel and freshen up for fun at Six Flags. Later that night everyone had their own plans for fun at the motel. Some walked "about ten miles" to a nearby grocery store for some goodies. Others went to the show, and some found fun at a fruit store. Also some found fun in the motel pool or just sitting around their rooms.

Sunday morning was the time to leave for home. Going home on the bus, some slept and some played cards, but it seemed to have been fun for all.

Air-Conditioning Club Achieves Honors Through Skills

Being a part of VICA this year, the Air-Conditioning Club, sponsored by Mr. Q. W. Simmang, participated in a number of activities.

On October 24 an all-school Halloween Dance was sponsored by the VICA Club. Air-Conditioning visited the NHBA Convention in the Astro Hall on Wednesday, January 28. The Valentine Sweetheart Week began on February 9 and ended with an assembly the following Friday.

The Air-Conditioning Club also attended the District III Contest in Pasadena on March 6 and 7. Eight Junior boys received various honors for the club. They were: Gary Watkins, Raymond Donaldson, Doug Howze, James Clack, Gary Smith, Mike Dietrich, Alan Brannon, and Eddie Tarvar. They won a combination of ribbons and honorable mentions. This spring they had a banquet and received Merit Awards for their skills and talents. They also attended the State Meet.

The VICA Club also sponsored a swimming party at the H and H Guest Ranch on May 28 as a reminder it was the last day of school.

Career Day

Aldine's Vocational Office Education Club changed their name to OEA. OEA stands for Office Education Association. This course taught the 22 members many important skills for a secretarial position. In this 2-hour class the sponsor, Mrs. Judge, taught the students many skills such as shorthand, recordkeeping, filing, typing, how to work with an IBM Executary, Rotary Calculator and the ten-key adding machine. All of the meetings were conducted by Rebecca Wilkerson, president; Charlotte Gist, vice-president; Debra Fountain, secretary; Paula Fritzsching, treasurer; Debbie Johnson, reporter; and Kathy Frey, parliamentarian.

The group sponsored, for the first time, Career Day. During the day, many classes visited exhibits conducted by Houston businesses. Throughout the year the OEA girls undertook many projects and sponsored activities such as guest speakers, the Student Directory, English book lists, typing for teachers, averaging grades and participating in the state convention in Galveston.

Roundup Staff Has Picnic at State Lake

On Sunday, May 17, the Roundup staff had their annual picnic at Huntsville Park. After meeting at Mr. Wilson's house, the staff followed to the park. Activities included in the park were paddle-boats, bicycle racing and swimming. After enjoying a picnic lunch, the staff joined in on all the fun.

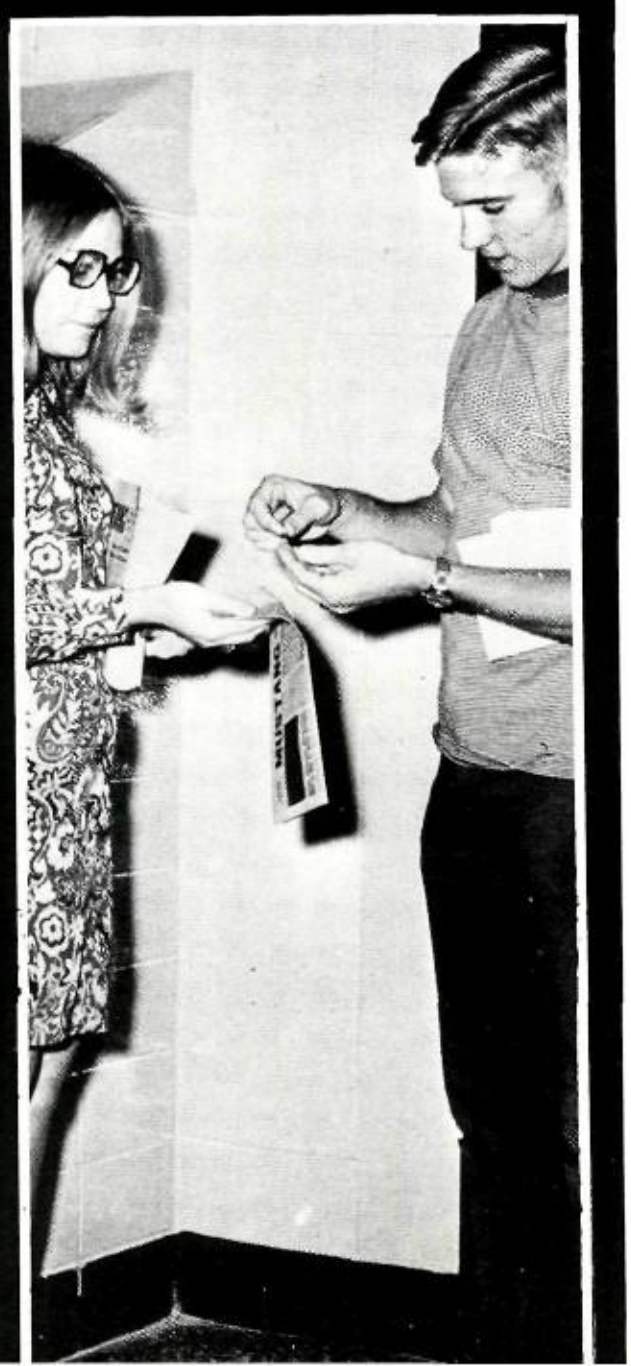
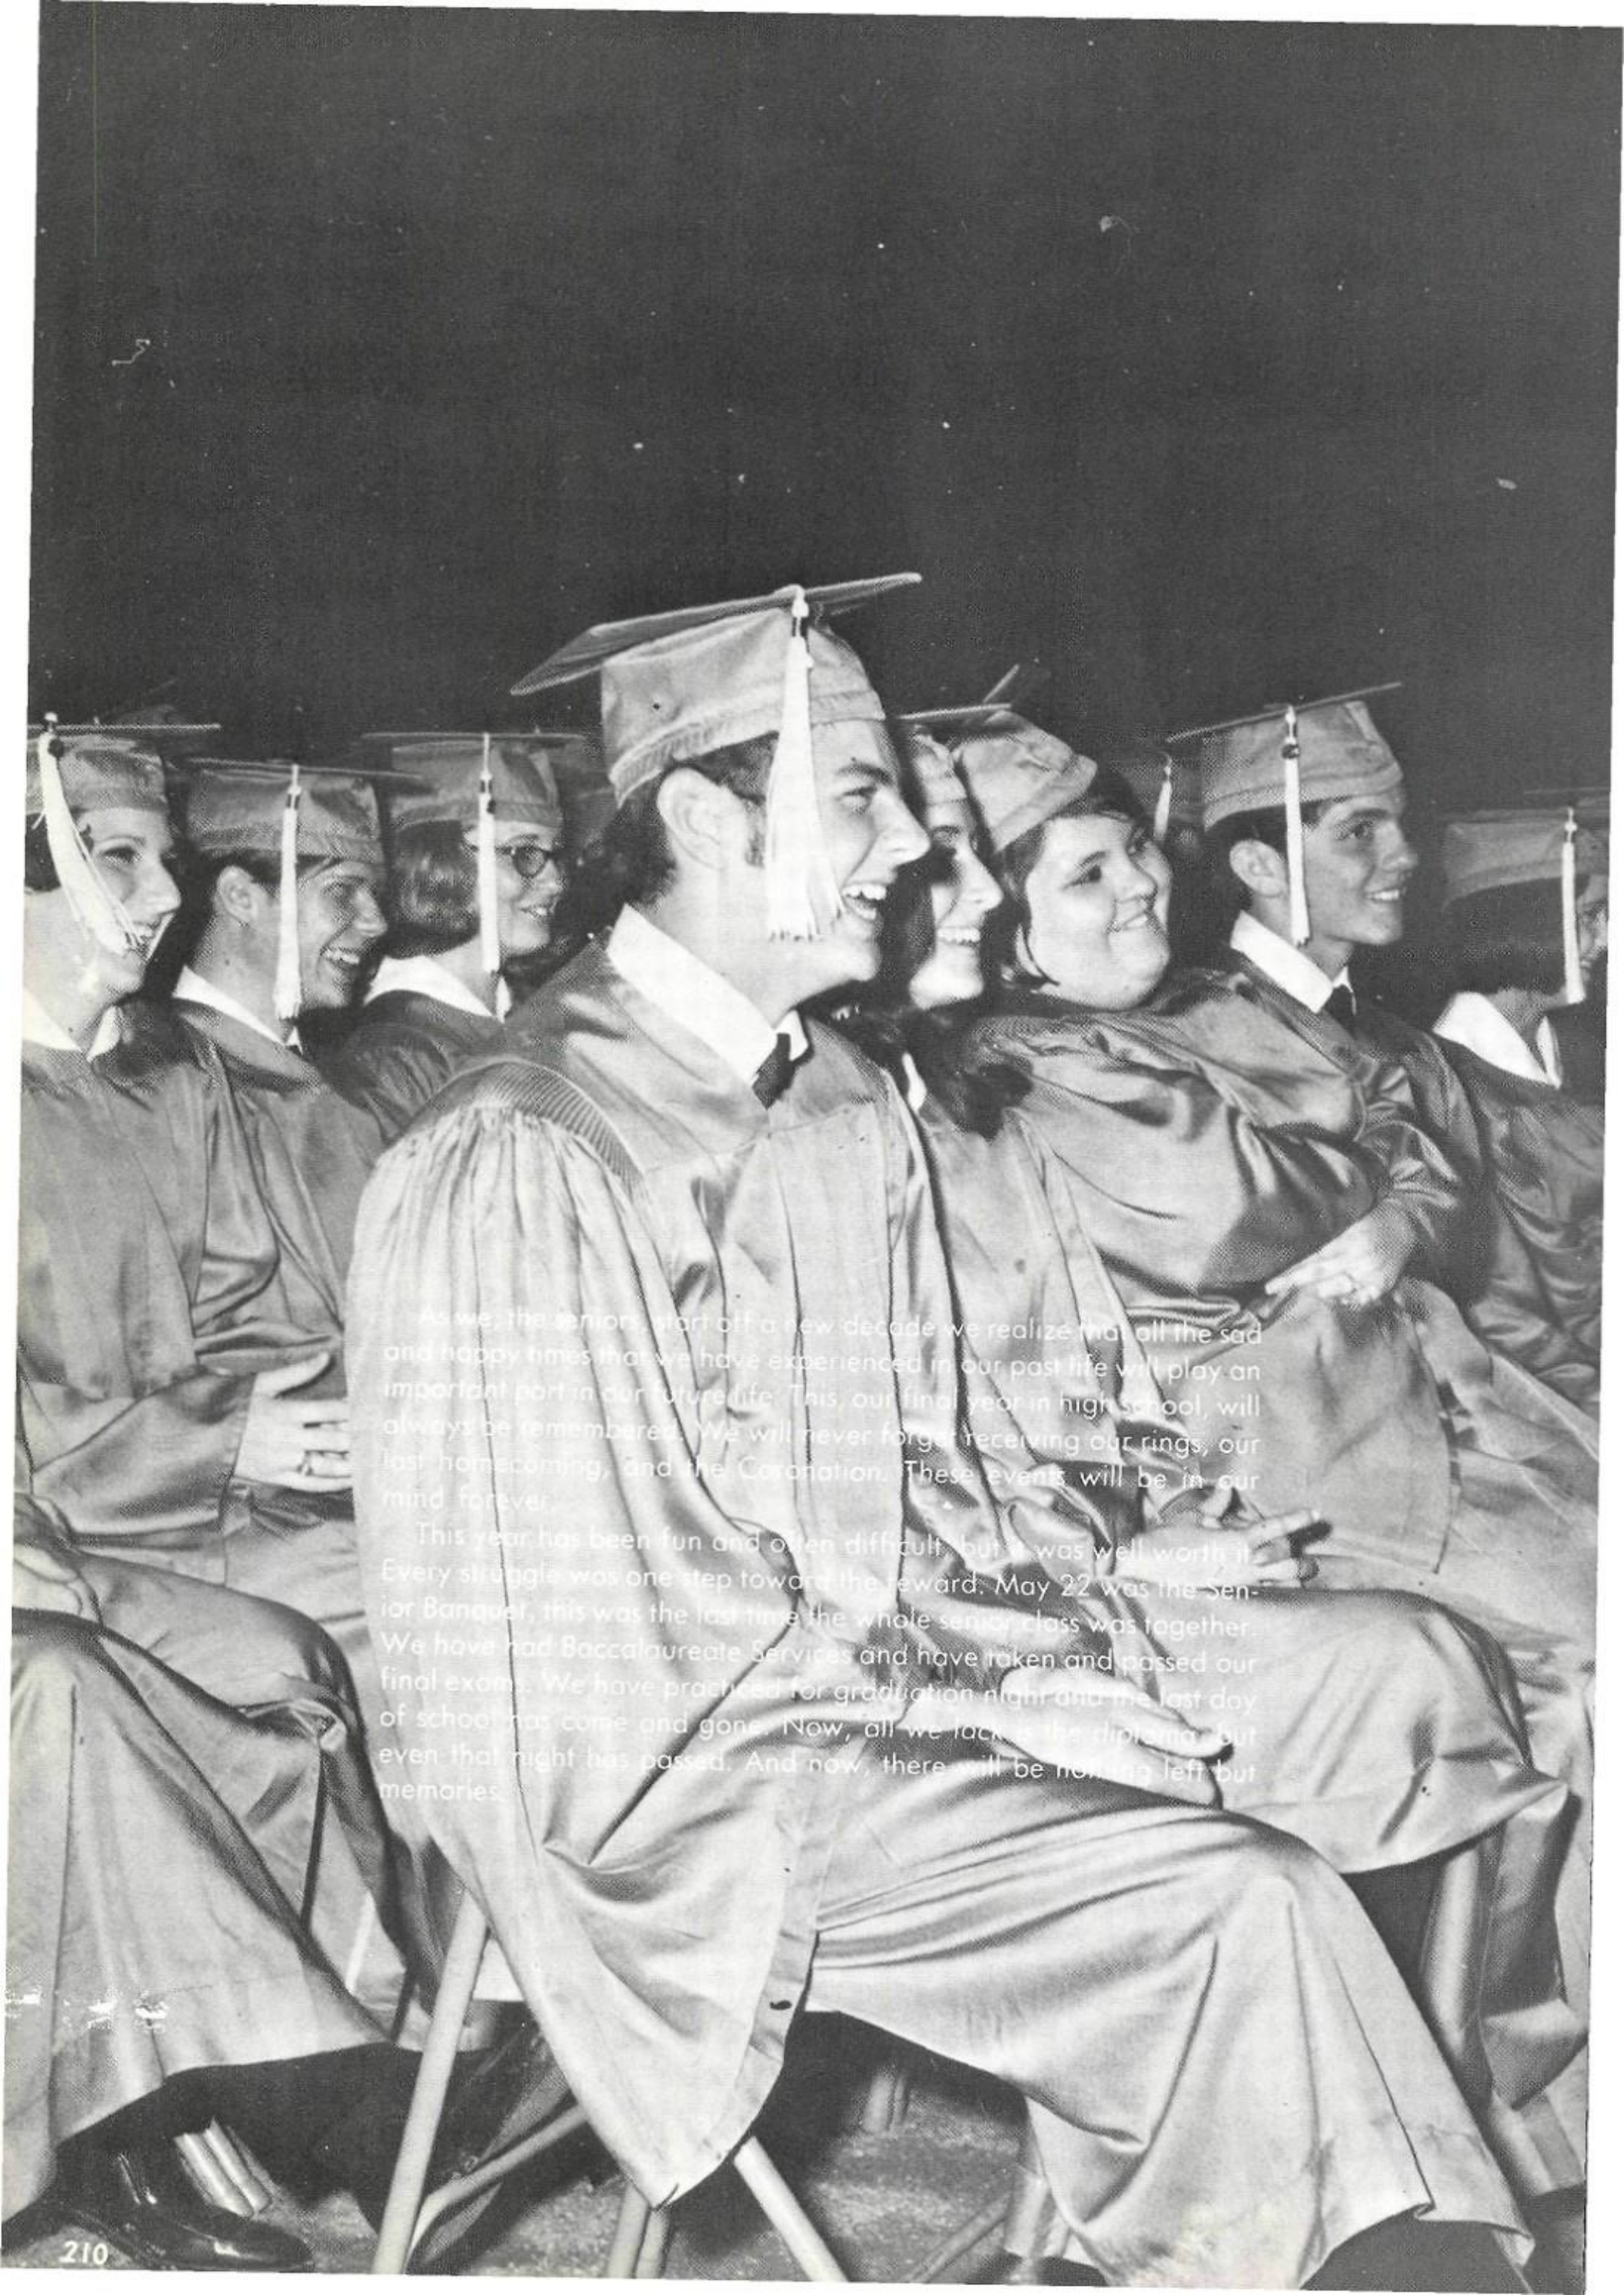
CLASSES



Competition between the classes always existed.
Success was yelling the loudest at the pep rallies,
But the Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors still respected the upperclassmen,
And Seniors found time from the confusion to say their goodbyes and to part with many friends.



As we, the senior, start off a new decade we realize that all the sad and happy times that we have experienced in our past life will play an important part in our future life. This, our final year in high school, will always be remembered. We will never forget receiving our rings, our last homecoming, and the Coronation. These events will be in our mind forever.

This year has been fun and often difficult, but it was well worth it. Every struggle was one step toward the reward. May 22 was the Senior Banquet, this was the last time the whole senior class was together. We have had Baccalaureate Services and have taken and passed our final exams. We have practiced for graduation night and the last day of school has come and gone. Now, all we lack is the diploma, but even that night has passed. And now, there will be nothing left but memories.

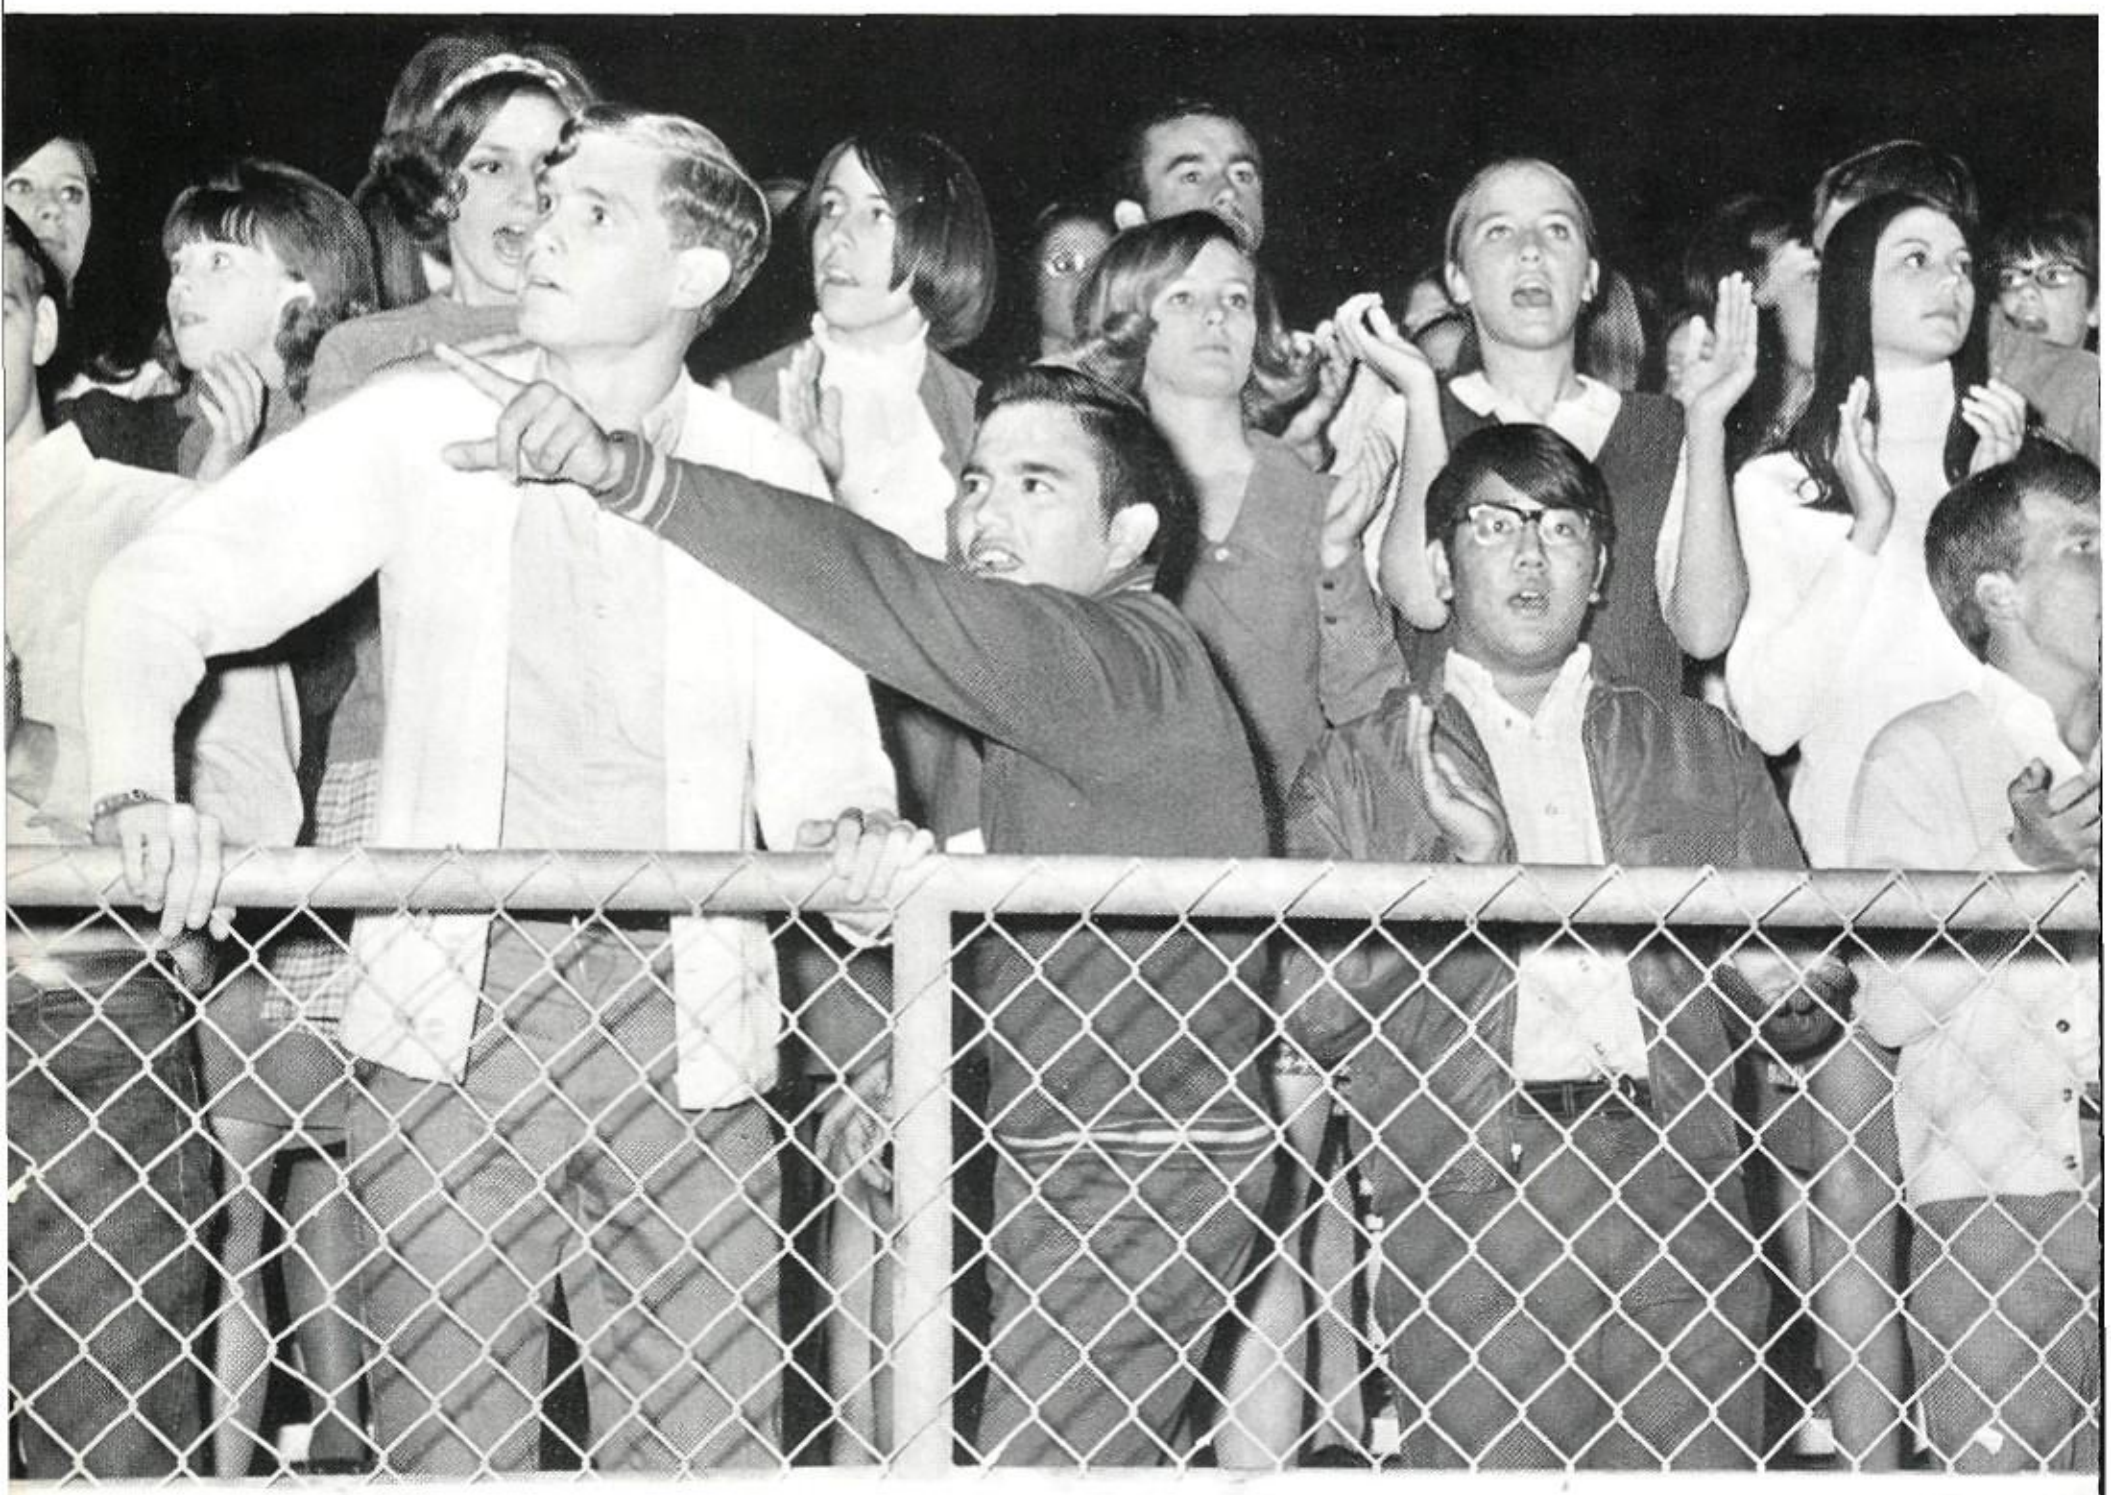
Juniors



As the '69-'70 school year opened, 325 juniors entered the halls with confusion because of the construction of two new wings here at Aldine. But after the first few weeks of attending classes, going to meetings, cheering at pep rallies, football games, basketball games, and other school activities, the confusion was replaced with excitement. Old friendships were renewed and new ones were made. This year the juniors sold magazines, had a car wash, and sponsored an all school social with a theme of a Carnival. The money from these was used for the Junior-Senior prom. This year the prom was held at the Marriott Motor Motel. The big day came for all when they ordered their senior rings. As the year came to an end the juniors looked forward to their senior year.

Sophomores

As Sophomores, we were expected to fulfill all the expectations of our sponsors and fellow classmen. The majority of us tried our best to live up to these quotas.

The year began with making new acquaintances and renewing old friendships. With our friends we got into the bright spirit of sports, dances, plays, and many other extra-curricular activities. These efforts brought us one step closer to our goal.

We made it through the exams and eagerly anticipated the last day of school. There was still two years until graduation but we intended to make our Junior year the best one yet!

Freshmen

In September 1969, approximately 714 freshmen entered the halls of Aldine Hig School with anticipation. They spent the first few weeks of the fall generally getting fa miliar with the school and becoming acquainted with teachers and new friends.

Throughout the year, the freshmen attended pep rallies, sports events, school assem blies, and socials. They also participated in various club activities and academic compe tition. As the end of the year came within sight, many of the freshmen looked forward t their sophomore year with enthusiasm and determination.
